

Recruitment

With the support of a Canada Summer Jobs grant, Stéfanie Larose, a McGill bachelors student in environmental and agriculture sciences has been hired to both expand the Coalition data bank of waterway contacts and communicate with stakeholders in small waterway communities across Canada to unite them in the Coalition agenda to influence Transport Canada to adopt environmental science-based regulations.